2. DCC Members considered the syllabus for four open elective subjects to be offered by the Department of Rubber and Plastics Technology. Chairman and members suggested redistribution of unit wise number of contact hours and also to incorporate more text books and reference books. With these suggestions incorporated, members approved the syllabus for the elective subjects.
3. Change of open elective in V semester with a professional elective in R-2019 was placed before the DCC. In R-2019 regulation, an open elective has been prescribed for B.Tech., Rubber and Plastics Technology in V semester. However, since other Departments in MIT Campus did not offer open electives in the V semester (August 2021-December 2021), the Department offered a Professional Elective (RP 5005 Engineering and High Performance Plastics) for Rubber and Plastics Technology students in place of the open elective. The open elective will be offered in VII semester instead of V semester.

DCC members considered this matter and keeping the interests of the students the decision of the Department in offering the Professional elective in V semester in place of an open elective is ratified.
